

MONICA DILEO

m.dileo@uq.edu.au • monicadileo.com

CURRENT

University of Queensland, Australia

2020-Present

PhD Candidate in Political Economy

- Dissertation: Drivers of Central Bank Approaches to Climate Change in Asia and the West
- Advisors: Stephen Bell, Shahar Hameiri, Ryan Walter
- Submission Q4 2023

Graduate Certificate in Economics (Econometrics)

- Concurrent master's coursework to PhD, focusing on econometric methods.
- GPA: 6.75 (7.0 scale)

PRIOR EDUCATION

Columbia University, USA

2022-2023

School of Public and International Affairs

Visiting PhD Scholar

Yale University, USA

2012-2016

Bachelor of Arts in Environmental Studies

- Distinction in the Major: Awarded at graduation for outstanding quality of work completed in the major subject, including both grades in coursework and quality of thesis.
- GPA: 3.76 (4.0 scale)

RELEVANT PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

University of Queensland, Australia

2020-Present

Research Assistant

- Research Assistant to Professor Shahar Hameiri, contributing to projects on development financing and economic competition, particularly in Asia and the Pacific.

Federal Reserve Bank of New York, USA

2018-2020

Senior Analyst, Applied Critical Thinking Function

- Designed and facilitated sessions with policymakers to promote policy objectives by applying critical thinking techniques that mitigate bias and encourage objectivity, creativity, and systemic thinking.
- Focused on emerging risks and policy challenges, with projects engaging with several monetary policy, supervision, and financial stability issues, and staff ranging from analysts to senior executives.

PUBLICATIONS AND WORKS IN PROGRESS

“Climate policy at the Bank of England: The possibilities and limits of green central banking”. Climate Policy 23, no. 6 (2023), pp. 671-688. Available open access here.

“Why the Fed and ECB parted ways on climate change: The politics of divergence in the global central banking community”, with Glenn Rudebusch and Jens van 't Klooster. Brookings Institution, Hutchins Center Working Paper No. 88 (2023). Available here.

“The greening of central banks through a Chinese mirror: The politics of the People's Bank of China's environmental turn”, with Eric Helleiner and Hongying Wang, under review.

PUBLICATIONS AND WORKS IN PROGRESS (continued)

“Where did the Network for Greening the Financial System come from? Explaining the new transgovernmental environmental politics of central banks and financial supervisors”, with Eric Helleiner and Jens van ‘t Klooster, in progress.

“China’s alternative for developing countries? Chinese development financing and sovereign bonds in the making of Sri Lanka’s debt crisis”, with Shahar Hameiri, in progress.

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS AND INVITED TALKS

“A developmental approach to green central banking”, International Studies Association Annual Conference. Montreal, March 2023.

“Macroprudential ideas, climate change, and ‘thermostatic’ shifts at the Bank of England”, Review of International Political Economy Workshop (ISA Annual Conference). Montreal, March 2023.

“Central banks and their evolution: Climate change and credit allocation”, Australian International Political Economy Network Annual Conference. University of Melbourne, Feb. 2023.

“Macroprudential ideas, climate change, and ‘thermostatic’ shifts at the Bank of England”, Frontiers of climate and nature in macroeconomics and finance. Banque de France, NGFS, sustainable macro and INSPIRE, Oct. 2022.

“Shifting central bank roles and approaches to climate change in East Asia and the West”, Sustainable Development Colloquium. Columbia University, Oct. 2022.

“Central bank roles and approaches to climate change”, European International Studies Association Pan-European Conference. Athens, Sept. 2022.

“Behavioural Economics”, Economic Society of Australia Young Economists seminar. Aug. 2022.

“Drivers of Central Bank Approaches to Climate Change in Asia and the West”, Australian International Political Economy Network Annual Conference. University of Queensland, Feb. 2022.

“Drivers of Central Bank Approaches to Climate Change in Asia and the West”, Australia and New Zealand Public Policy Network Conference. Monash University, Jan. 2022.

“Drivers of Central Bank Approaches to Climate Change”, Global Research Alliance for Sustainable Finance and Investment (GRASFI) Annual Conference (PhD workshop, plenary presentation). Online, Sept. 2021.

TEACHING

University of Queensland, Australia

2020-Present

Guest Lecturer, School of Political Science and International Studies

- Economic Analysis and Public Policy (master’s course).

Teaching Assistant, School of Political Science and International Studies

- Economic Analysis and Public Policy (master’s course), Fall 2021, 2022.
- Globalization, International Political Economy and Development (master’s course), Spring 2021.
- Politics and the Economy (undergraduate course), Spring 2020.

AWARDS, GRANTS AND FELLOWSHIPS

- Research Training Stipend and Tuition Offset, University of Queensland 2020-2024
- Awarded to fund PhD tuition, research, and living costs.
- Rosalie Wynn Hearst Scholarship, United States Senate Alumni Association 2022
- Awarded to fund coursework in econometrics concurrent to PhD study.
- Global Change Scholar, University of Queensland 2021
- Scholarship and year-long development program, awarded for high potential impact of dissertation.
- Spates/Theodore Prize, Yale University 2016
- Awarded at graduation for “compelling creativity, sensitivity, and caring”.
- Dwight V. Waterman Fellowship, Yale University 2015
- Awarded to pursue a policy internship at the Food Research and Action Center (FRAC).
- Global Food Fellowship, Yale University 2015
- Awarded to pursue a policy internship at the Food Research and Action Center (FRAC).
- National Merit Scholar, Yale University 2012-2016
- Four-year scholarship awarded towards undergraduate degree.
- United States Senate Youth Program, Yale University 2012
- Undergraduate scholarship and weeklong educational program, sponsored by the US Senate.

PROGRAMMING LANGUAGES

R: experience with natural language processing techniques and econometric methods

PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Reviewer, Review of International Political Economy

OTHER PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- Byron Shire Council / Santos Organics, Australia 2017
Special Assistant
- Managed responsibilities across executive’s dual roles as Councillor for Byron Shire and General Manager of Santos Organics, a $13 million ethical business enterprise.
 - At Byron Shire Council: Led the research efforts and drafting of both Council motions and proposals to state government across a range of issues, focusing on housing policy.
 - At Santos Organics: Oversaw executive projects and strategic planning during company’s transition to an environmental not-for-profit and novel model for ethical business.
- Yale Law Environmental Protection Clinic, USA Fall 2015
Student Consultant
- Conducted research and completed comprehensive report for client, the Connecticut Governor’s Council on Climate Change (GC3), on successful models of climate leadership in other states and policy recommendations to achieve greenhouse gas emissions targets.
- Food Research and Action Center (FRAC), Washington, DC, USA Summer 2015
Policy Intern
- Analyzed policy outcomes of the National School Lunch & Breakfast Programs utilizing quantitative and qualitative methods.
 - Attended Congressional hearings and assisted with related legislative outreach.